Carleton University

My name is Charlotte Parry and I am a second-year student studying Law at Carleton University. I am concentrating in Law, Policy and Government and minoring in Greek and Roman Studies. After completing my undergraduate, I would love to either go to Law school to hopefully become a lawyer and eventually a judge. If not law school then I would love to travel and attain a Masters. I am British and moved to Canada 11 years ago with my family. We have spent a lot of time travelling and experiencing new cultures. This has provided me with a passion for advocacy and education. In addition to travelling, I have an interest in community involvement and learning languages. I have loved learning Italian so far and it has tied together my interest in Italian culture and language. While we are in troubling times at the moment, I am excited to continue my journey with education, travel and hopefully will return to normalcy and continue to diverse myself in other cultures and experiences.
